No. H. 11811—Pol. 263-49-7, dated Bangalore, 4th February 1950.

The following Presidential Order published in the Gazette of India Extraordinary, dated 26th January 1950, regarding the Preventive Detention (Extension of Duration) Order, 1950, is republished for general information:—

"No. C. O. 8.

The Preventive Detention (Extension of Duration) Order, 1950.

In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-clauses (a) and (b) of clause (7) of Article 22 of the Constitution of India read with Article 373 thereof and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, the President is pleased to make the following order, namely :—

1. (1) This order may be called the Preventive Detention (Extension of Duration) Order, 1950.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

2. Where in any class of cases or under any circumstances specified in any law providing for preventive detention in force at the commencement of the Constitution of India (hereinafter referred to as 'the Constitution') any person was immediately before such commencement or is at any time thereafter, in detention in pursuance of an order made under such law, such person may be detained for a period longer than three months under such law without obtaining the opinion of an Advisory Board in accordance with the provisions of sub-clause (a) of clause (4) of Article 22 of the Constitution.

3. The maximum period for which any such person, as is referred to in paragraph 2, may be detained, shall, in the case of a person in detention immediately before the commencement of the Constitution, be three months from such commencement, and in the case of a person detained
